About

The STORM (Standing Up for Myself) programme is a manualised 4-session plus booster peer group intervention that seeks to empower people with learning disabilities to say 'no' to bad attitudes, prejudice and discrimination. STORM makes extensive use of filmed first-hand testimonials by people with learning disabilities, discussions and practical exercises. At this event we will present information about the STORM project and results from our pilot study of the STORM intervention. Talks will be given by members of the STORM research team, self-advocate advisers, collaborators, and STORM facilitators and participants. This event will be fully accessible to people with learning disabilities and is free to attend.

This project and event are supported by the Baily Thomas Charitable Fund.
